

forethought | advisory brokers

[fawr-thawt, fohr-]
noun

1. thoughtful provision beforehand; provident care; prudence.
2. a thinking of something beforehand; previous consideration; anticipation.

We have a strong understanding of the sector, gained through a number of years' experience of working as an aerospace insurance broker, serving clients of all sizes and specialties, including household names and a number of the top 100 Aerospace firms globally (by size).

Previous consulting engagements have ranged from Heavy engineering (Oil rigs) through to Professional Service (PR firms). This experience helps us to introduce new ways of working that have been proven successful in other industries.

What we can do for you

External aspects

Looking outside of your business can be just as important as the business itself. We can help you identify and implement:

- Business Growth, Development and Forecasting
- Strategy Development
- Market Analysis
- Competitor Analysis
- Segmentation Analysis
- Trend Identification
- Strategic Alliance Identification

In reliable hands

Alex Chappell BA, MBA, Dip MC, Chartered Manager (CMgr), a Fellow of the Institute of Consulting (FIC), of the Chartered Management Institute, (FCMI), and Associate Member of the British Association of Aviation Consultants (AMBAC) acts as your point of call from initial enquiry through scoping and onwards, and delivers the services as appropriate.

Internal aspects

We can help you identify the areas of your business that require attention to achieve efficiencies and longevity, including:

- Health Check Reviews
- Performance Improvement
- Troubleshooting
- Business Planning
- Business Start Up
- Staff Retention
- Talent Management
- Enterprise Risk Management

“

The consultancy process was well organised, well delivered and gave some useful insights into opportunities, threats, and other challenges surrounding the company and The solutions that had been presented as part of the consultancy had been practical and realistic in their opportunity. We are happy with the project delivered, and found it useful during follow up reviewing company developments.

Matthew Woollorton
Project Manager, sembmarine SLP

”

We're passionate about consultancy that delivers tangible solutions and measurable results so, if your business could benefit from these, please call for a discussion of how we can help you achieve your goals.

forethought | advisory brokers

Forethought Advisory
Dragonfly House, Gilders Way, Norwich, NR3 1UB
+44 (0) 1603 231 231
advisory@forethought.uk.com
www.forethought.uk.com

We are proud members of the above trade associations